Visit of the Philadelphia Beard of Trade. The Committee from the Philadelphia Board of Trade, enumerated restorday, were yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, recived by the Cleveland Board, The attendance of Claveland business men vas large, the best of our mercantile interests

At 16 o'clock the Committee, accompanied y Mayor Senter, entered the hall. Mr. J. L. Weatherly, President of the Cleveland Board, welcomed their visitors as

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Com-On behalf of the Board of Trade, and our ousiness citizens generally, I welcome you o Cleveland. Without burdening you with personal introductions at the present moment, all here present wish you to mingle with us freely in conversation, feeling assured that you are among Western friends who are glad to see you. Mr. Henry Budd, Chairman of the Philalelphia Committee, responded as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen:
In behalf of the delegation of Philaphians here present, I desire to tender to you their gratification at the cordial and hearty welcome which we have received at your hands. Intercourse among business man is always beneficial, and I trust this occasion Model speeches, both.

Personal introductions were then given, and an hour spent in pleasant business and social conversation. Our eastern visitors are gentlemen whom it is a pleasure to meet, as well as those who stand prominent in the commercial and mercantile world. Nearly all divisions of trade are represented. The primary object of the tour is of course to make trade for Philadelphia. To do this they desire to become acquainted with business men, and to examine the railroad operations at the West, to ascertain if the lines to Philadelphia have a fair show with other routes. The party are passed free over the rouds in their route.

The excursion has been projected for two years, and just came to its fruition. The party left Philadelphia Monday afternoon, stopping for a day at Pittaburgh. They go from here to Chicago, thence to Quincy, III., THE AUTOCRAT OF THE KITCHEN! St. Joseph and St. Louis, Mo., Cincinnsti, Dayton and Columbus, being absent from home about three weeks.
